

Literacy Night

Koliganek

Camp-Reads-A-Lot Stations

The camp-read-a-lot literacy night was a hit. A total of seven families attended. The family night was held January 22 at 3:45 to 5:00 PM. Several staff members volunteered their time to help with the stations and make the night a success.

The family night was set up in stations involving reading under the stars, puppet making, s'mores and a word station with building words and fishing for rhymes. Each person got a camp card which they had to complete three activities to enter their name into the bucket for door prizes. Door prizes including coloring book bags, jewelry bowl kit, and berry pickers. This has been one of the best literacy nights yet!

Book Fair

The book fair was set up in the library during the family night for some families to complete book orders. Parents were encouraged to read at home with their children to increase student motivation.

Edward and Karen Kapatak's family

Children enjoying s'mores.

Reading

Parents or older children read the children's books using flash lights, in or near the tents set up in the school library.

Puppet Making

Children chose to make a bear, puppy or person puppet. Puppets were used to role play the stories that were read or used to read stories to.

S'mores

Children and families enjoyed their camp out snack.

Fishing for rhymes

Children loved fishing for words in the word building station.

