Spring Update!

In 2023-24, Manokotak Nunaniq School was designated as an additional targeted support and intervention school (ATSI) for the economically disadvantaged student subgroup. This was based on a number of performance indicators through the Alaska Department of Education School Success System.

Manokotak Nunaniq School formed a school success team for the purpose of going through a comprehensive needs assessment for the purpose of building a school success plan based on the highest need areas of students. The school success team has been working on this since October and were happy to announce that the plan is complete! Please note, this plan will be adjusted based on the changing needs of the students.
